

The Low Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC)

Program is an indirect Federal subsidy used to finance the development of affordable rental housing for low to moderate-income households. The program was created by Congress in 1986 as part of the Tax Reform Act and is administered by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

Rents are determined by The Department of Housing & Urban Development on the basis of 30% of the area's median income.

This program is not a subsidized housing program. Each resident is responsible for their full amount of rent each month. The rental amount is not based on individual household income, rather, the pre-set income limits in this region of Massachusetts.
